

Gifts Through Beneficiary Designation

Naming the National Institute for Reproductive Health (NIRH) or the NIRH Action Fund (NIRHAF) as a beneficiary of a retirement plan, life insurance policy, or brokerage or bank account is an easy and effective way to make a long-lasting difference for our movement.

Qualified retirement plans and life insurance policies are non-probate assets, meaning that you do not need to have a will in place in order to leave a gift through a beneficiary designation.

Because NIRH and NIRHAF are tax-exempt organizations, 100% of your gift will pass directly to the organization you choose. This may help eliminate both income and estate taxes, depending on your situation, and can allow you to provide for your heirs in more strategic ways.

To name NIRH or NIRHAF as a beneficiary of an existing account, simply request a Change of Beneficiary Form from your plan administrator. You can add NIRH or NIRHAF as either a full or partial beneficiary, or even as a contingent beneficiary should other beneficiaries not survive you. Please use the following information when listing NIRH or NIRHAF as a beneficiary:

National Institute for Reproductive Health
Federal Tax ID Number: 13-3030257

National Institute for Reproductive Health Action Fund
Federal Tax ID Number: 13-2934132

If you have named NIRH or NIRHAF as a beneficiary of your estate plans, please let us know so that we can properly thank you and acknowledge your generous commitment! Should you have any questions about making a gift by beneficiary designation, please contact Rachel Starr, Senior Major Gifts Officer, at rstarr@nirhealth.org.
